Dear Constant

I hope you are well (I saw some very nice paintings at Nico Delaive's stand at Art Cologne). Since we last met I have become a contributing editor to the Tate Gallery's new magazine (I enclose a copy). Tate magazine would very much like to include an interview with you during the course of next year and I am writing to enquire as to whether you are willing to do this. If this is agreeable to you then perhaps we could arrange to meet sometime in January. I will contact you by telephone next week to find out.

Best wishes
