Busoni himself seemed always to have been recognized as not only a great musician but as a musical thinker a great who might have resolved the crisis in our music which has persisted now for half a century. But he also seems to have ultimately failed all that he did. His failure is noble

What do you want? Better and cheaper food? Lots of new clothes?
A dream home with all the latest comforts and labour-saving devices?
A new car ... a motor-launch ... a light aircraft of your own?
Whatever you want, it's coming your way - plus greater leisure for enjoying it all. With electronics, automation and nuclear energy, we are entering on the new Industrial Revolution which will supply our every need, easily ... quickly ... cheaply ... abundantly.

... et voilà votre vie transformée!
